On a warm September morning in 1952, we, the members of the Class of 1958, assembled in front of Washington High School for the first time, looking at the older students with something akin to awe, hoping that the "butterflies" in our stomachs weren't reflected in the expression of our faces.

As the days passed some of our qualms disappeared and we began to feel a part of the student body as we learned, under the guidance of our teachers, the history of our school, its faculty members, the functions of the Student Council, and thrilled as we learned and sang "our" ALMA MATER.

We returned in September 1953, much more confident, feeling very much superior to the entering seventh graders. Our first project as a class came this year—a trip to Philadelphia, in connection with our Science course, to visit Franklin Institute. We shared the trip with a tenth grade class from Cambridge High School. It was a memorable event for us all. This year, too, saw our first school assembly presented—to us, the best assembly ever presented—a one-act pantomine, "The Lamp Went Out."

1954 Freshmen! We began the study of the history and social customs of South America. We took our second class trip to Washington, D.C., where we visited, among other places, the Pan-American Union Building. We presented an assembly based on Latin America. Later we sponsored the "Freshman Special" dance.

In 1955 we returned with the proud name of Sophomores. We began to take a more active part as individuals in school affairs. As a class we sponsored the "Skater's Paradise" dance. Without much ado we finished the year successfully.

Juniors! Alice Miller was our Class President, with Nancy Gibbon as Vice President, Allen Muir as Treasurer, Darla Layfield as Secretary. Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Johnson were our sponsors. The "Junior Hoedown," our class dance, increased our treasury comfortably. We held bakes, planning for the needs of the Prom and of our Senior year. Bob Pulliam and Darla Layfield brought us reflected glory by winning the Somerset County Declamation Contest. After weeks of preparation we finished our plans for the "Bali H'ai Ball," the Junior-Senior Prom. Decorated in an Oriental theme, the auditorium, to us, had never looked more beautiful—and the weariness of preparation was forgotten as we danced to the music of the Rhythmettes. The Theatre Party and Prom Breakfast added memories to the occasion. Allen Muir and Nancy Gibbon were chosen as President and Vice President, respectively, of the Student Council. Just before school closed we ordered our class rings. Many of us had our driving licenses, and summer jobs ahead. Came June 7 and fond dreams of our Senior year.

O, Happy Day, September 5, 1957! SENIORS! No butterflies now! We were members of the Graduating Class! We assembled with heads held just a little higher. Miss Flurer and Mr. Gaddis were our sponsors. Things began to happen—Johnny Barnes was our Class President, with Ireva Townsend, Vice President; Doris Richardson, Secretary; Wayne Tull, Treasurer, assisting him; Julian Bull, Queen of the annual Livestock Show; James Doyle, President of the F.F.A.; Jimmy Byrd walking off with all the honors at the Farm Shows with his steer; Class Rings; Engagement rings for Julia Bull and Alice Miller; The Senior Class Dance; The Christmas Formal, "The Snow Ball," with the Rhythmettes again; Billy Foxwell and Linda Riggin producing the Yearbook; Linda in the All-State Band; Ireva Townsend and Alice Mae Kohlheim, Cheerleaders; The Prom; Commencement; The coveted diploma a reality at last; Memories of Washington High and Class of '58 to be cherished forever!

Class Will of 1958

We, being the class of '58, stumbling and staggering through these ivy-covered walls, in order to turn teachers insane and provide for shorter assignments and longer vacations, bequeath these priceless possessions to the underclassmen and tired teachers who follow our class down the halls of wonderful W.H.S.

To the members of the Junior Class and faculty we leave:
Richard Adams' willingness to Joe Baugher.
Mary Arnold's books to Mary Ann Packer.
Carl Ashley's car to Charles Frye.
John Barnes' argumentative manner to Harry Truman.
Phillip Benson's looks to Bob Shockley and Tab Hunter.
Ann Bloodsworth leaves with her foot in her mouth.
Bob Board's parking place in Mt. Vernon to Frieda Johnson.
Buster Bozman's innocence to Jack Smith.
June Butler's blonde hair to Ann Porter and Jayne Mansfield.
Jimmy Byrd leaves his blue ribbons to Charles Fisher and J. R. Twining.
Julia Bull's Deal Island route to Carol Webster.
Allen Camp's quiet ways to Bruce Dashiell.
Weldon Collins' height to Albert Correia.
Janice Camp's loquaciousness to Judy Tull.
Mary Anne Campbell wills her vim and vigor to Jimmy Hall and Floyd and Lloyd Doyle.
James Doyle's place in agriculture to John Drew.
Verna Dryden's retiring personality to Ruth Bozman.
Bonnie Evans leaves Smith Island to Leland Whitelock.
Billy Foxwell's undying love to Jean Smith.
Nancy Gibbon's one-way ticket to Arabia to Diane Parks.
Frances Griffin's pleasant manner to Caroline Landon.
Ann Hall's homeland to Jimmy Noble.
Donald Hall's bothering the girls to Jimmy Nichols.
Becky Hurley's correct answers to George Hall.
Benny Kelly's keeping to himself to Donald Beauchamp.
Alice Mae Kohlheim leaves her sophistication to Charlotte Pittinger.
Darla Layfield leaves with everyone watching.
Evelyn Long's modesty to Elaine Muir.
Ginger Long's cooperativeness to Ann Scott.
Cradoc Mildon's "choo-choo twain" to Lewis Long.
Alice Miller's friendliness to Nancy Matthews.
Rosalie Linton's "devil-may care" attitude to Eugene Shirk.
Ginger Matthew's zaniness to Josie Lusk.
Allen Muir's Student Council headaches to Sara Baughan.
Ronnie Noble's Confederate money to Bobby Massey.
Ann Parkinson's black hair to Patsy McCracken and Gail Street.
Preston Park's big voice to Melvin Revelle.
Wallace Peterman's love of underclassmen to Richard Barnes and Eugene Shirk.
Joan Powell's ninety pairs of earrings to Betsy Brimer.
Bob Pulliam's ability to turn teachers' hair gray to Bobby Jones and Boyd Bloodsworth.
Doris Richardson's terrific athletic record to Patty Murphy and Clarence Johnson.
Linda Riggin leaves with a band uniform, tenor sax, gym bag, and 10 different books.
Robert Taylor's "watermelons" to Bob Pinchak.
Ireva Townsend's trim appearance to Alice Testerman.
Price Gunter's Earth Angel Jacket and Motor Cycle Boots to Marvin Gunter.
Wayne Tull's trumpet to Ray Anthony.
Dick Wheatley's fun and firecrackers to Gary Miller.
To Mrs. Crawford, we leave an accordion and an autographed picture of Lawrence Welk.
To Miss Bateman we leave our gratitude for starting us off right . . . finally.
To Mrs. Bloodsworth, we leave a trip to the ancient world and a private mummy.
To Miss Warren, we leave a set of World Books.
To Mrs. Scott we leave a year's supply of fried grasshoppers.
To Mrs. McCleary, we leave the role of Lady Macbeth, with Judith Anderson's compliments.
To Mrs. Chamberlin, we leave 10 automatic gym moppers.
To Mr. Pump, we leave a giant size bottle of phenabarbitol.
To Mrs. Wood, we leave a robot that takes dictation, and never misses class.
To Miss Messick, we leave a slide rule and a class that can understand it.
To Mr. Gaddis, we leave an automatic Worm-Baiter.
To Mrs. Johnson, we leave a set of history books with our history in it.
To Miss Flurer, we leave unbreakable lab material.
To Mrs. Toadvine, we leave a copy of "Good Housekeeping."
To Mr. Anderson, we leave a milking stool.
To Mr. Leckey, we leave a class that can speak English passably.
To Mr. Walz, we leave a model band.
To Mr. Baughan, we leave a school that is normal once again, now that our class has graduated.

And you say that you don't normally see these . . . er . . . students . . . around the campus? Ridiculous! They're normal, tired, young journalists fatigued at the completion of another yearbook . . . your 1958 Hatchet. You have a complaint to make? Address all complaints to Ye Old Nut House, Princess Anne, Maryland. Deceased members may be found under all tombstones with epitaphs saying, "WE HATE YEARBOOKS."
